Conference dinner information (incl. dress code)

Welcome to Buena Vista Beach Club for our conference dinner / Beach BBQ on Wednesday evening (7 – 11 pm). There will be live music, so put on your dancing shoes! Let's hope for good weather so we can all enjoy sitting outside, watch the sun set in the North Sea, while talking to old and new friends and colleagues from around the world!

Address:

If you haven't registered yet for the conference dinner, you can make your enquiries at the registration booth. If you want to be sure we're not full, please ask at registration@parthen.nl to make reservations for your ticket.

Dress code

The dress code for our beach BBQ will be smart casual: think of comfortable party cloths to wear if you would go out during Summer holidays. Take layers, just in case. Dinner will be inside the beach club or partly outside with or without tent cover depending on the weather. With nice weather we will be fully outside!

For women: high and especially stiletto heels are really not recommended because of the wooden plank floor (you might get stuck). Sandals or other comfortable shoes are a good option.

For men: we follow the "Declaration of the tie" (1998) by Prince Claus of the Netherlands, late husband of our former queen Beatrix.

Swimming in the North Sea

If you know you can't control yourself if you see an ocean, of course you can take your bathing suit and towel and have a swim! However, swimming can be hazardous, so don't be reckless and don't do it if you drink alcoholic beverages. Swimming is at your own risk, the conference organizers, PCO or beach club do not take any responsibility. Swim only if you're a good swimmer, stay close to the coast and make sure you watch flags and sign posts for information and warnings by beach rescue. Known hazards in the North sea are under currents if you go too far and small jelly fish which can sting a little (no sharks).
